Safety is Key as Kids Open the Door to a New School Year

Commuters will soon see kids walking to school, riding bikes in the morning, and loading in and out of buses at various City locations. A new school year is upon us and the City of Plymouth Police Department is sharing some reminders to keep our kids safe.

Police Chief Al Cox says all motorists need to pay closer attention to driving habits, especially within neighborhood and school zone areas.

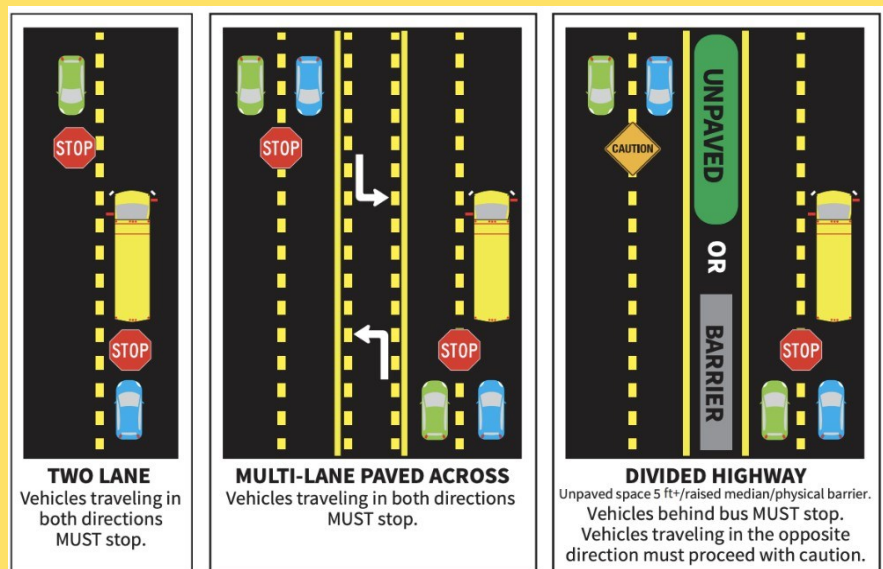

“Eliminating distractions where we can and slowing down goes a long way toward keeping our children safe,” says Chief Cox.

Crossing guards will also be back on duty to assist children that must cross busy intersections, and it is important to watch for and follow their direction.

“Under the law, drivers must not proceed past the crosswalk until the crossing guard is completely out of the street, even if they have moved out of the path of your vehicle,” says Chief Cox.

Disobeying a crossing guard is a misdemeanor offense, as is disobeying the red flashing lights or stop sign attached to a school bus.

Plymouth Police Officers will be patrolling City neighborhoods and school zone areas during the times our children are making their way to and from school. Working together, we can all make it safe for everyone this school year.

Harvey Street Project Enters Next Phase

Construction work on Harvey Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman is on schedule and one step closer to completion. Last week, crews successfully installed the water main that runs under the Tonquish Creek.

Early in September, crews will continue with water main installation as well as storm sewer and sanitary sewer work. Once the water main is installed, it will undergo a series of pressure and bacteriological tests before it can be connected to the current water system. When the new water main is connected to the current water system, there will be some scheduled service interruptions for the residents and businesses along Harvey Street. City staff will communicate well in advance of this work and will hand deliver notices door to door prior to any interruption in service.

During Fall Festival, it is anticipated that northbound traffic will be allowed on Harvey Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman. This will allow traffic to travel northbound on Harvey to enter the Central Parking Deck. Motorists leaving the Central Parking Deck will be able to do so on northbound Harvey.

The project is expected to continue through early November. Please visit www.plymouthmi.gov/roadconstruction for updates.

Skateboards not Permitted Downtown

During spring and summer, the City of Plymouth Police Department received reports of pedestrians encountering several near misses by skateboarders in the downtown area. On one occasion, a pedestrian fell to the ground in an attempt to avoid being hit by a person on a skateboard.

Under local ordinance, skateboarding is prohibited on any public property in the central business district (70-215). The central business district includes all public areas within the following streets: Church, Harvey, Wing, Deer, Maple, Elizabeth, and Union. Penalties for such violations are civil infractions resulting in fines that range between $50-$250 plus costs. Repeated violations also include community service and can result in permanent confiscation of the skateboard. Officers have used discretion over the last few months in an attempt to educate offenders but are now beginning to issue violations. If you wish to skateboard, please ensure that you do so safely and responsibly at an appropriate location outside of the central business district. You Can Help Prevent Street Flooding

The City of Plymouth Municipal Services Department is asking for your help to keep storm drains clear from blockages this fall season.

Fall rain storms can potentially cause street flooding as leaves and other debris can clog City catch basins and storm drains. Residents can do their part by raking any fallen leaves away from storm drains, and keeping the curb and gutter in front of your house clean and clear. Bulk leaf piles should also be kept away from the drains.

The Department of Municipal Services appreciates your assistance in keeping streets draining properly this fall season.

Get Involved With Your Community

Serving on a Plymouth board or commission is a great way for citizens to be involved in government and make a significant impact by using their unique talents.

The Plymouth City Commission comprises a mayor and six commissioners that are elected at-large. The City Commission is responsible for setting policy, adopting ordinances and resolutions, approving the City budget and determining the tax rate. Information about running for a City Commission seat is available here. The mayor, with the support of the City Commission, appoints residents to the seven other boards and commissions.

The Cemetery Board makes recommendations to the City Commission as necessary and expedient for the proper control, maintenance, and improvement of the city cemetery. It consists of six members, one of whom is the city manager, ex officio, and five of whom are appointed. The annual meeting is on the fourth Monday in May. Additional meetings are held as needed.

The duty of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) is to provide for all matters necessary and related to the DDA. The board consists of the mayor and 12 members appointed for four-year terms. Not less than a majority of the members must be persons having an interest in property located in the downtown district. The DDA Board meets on the second Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m.

The Economic Development/Brownfield Board meets as necessary to capture tax increment revenues (like the Downtown Development Authority) and use the revenues to assess the environmental status of a property, to take steps to mitigate exposure to existing contamination, and to clean up existing contamination. Nine members are appointed for six-year terms.

The Historic District Commission's duty is to safeguard the heritage of the City of Plymouth, stabilize and improve property values, foster civic beauty, strengthen the local economy, and promote the use of historic districts for the education, pleasure, and welfare of the citizens of the City. Seven members are appointed for three-year terms of office. The HDC meets on the first Wednesday of each month at 7:00 p.m.

The Housing Commission serves at the Board of Directors of Tonquish Creek Manor. Five members are appointed for five-year terms, and the group meets bi-monthly on the third Wednesday.

The Planning Commission reviews planned unit developments (PUDs), conducts site plan reviews, and considers re-zonings. Nine members are appointed by the mayor with the approval of the City Commission for three-year terms. Meetings are the second Wednesday of the month at 7:00 p.m.

The Zoning Board of Appeals is charged with hearing and deciding all matters referred to it. Five members are appointed, one of whom is a member of the Planning Commission, for three-year terms. The City Commission may also appoint two alternate members. The Zoning Board of Appeals meets the first Thursday of the month at 7:00 p.m.

Citizens who wish to serve on any board or commission are invited to complete an online application that will be submitted to the Plymouth City Clerk's office or to print the application and mail it to the Plymouth City Clerk, 201 S.
